

Dear Wine Retailer,

Your customer has heard about our new line of French Wines

Although our wines are a relatively new breed of French wines, people are talking about us, and its just a matter of time before your customers are stampeding your store for a few bottles.

"Elephant on a Tightrope" evolved out of our common appreciation of fine wines, and our desire to create a French wine brand for today's consumer that would strike a balance between wine style, price and packaging without compromising standards.

Please contact us at your earliest convenience to begin offering Elephant on a Tightrope to your customers.
